Emergency Response Program

Avaya Financial Services is available to support you, the continuity of your business and your valued customers during natural disasters.

For businesses impacted by devastation Avaya Financial Services offers a variety of financing programs. We have a suite of programs available including deferral and skip payment plans, fair market value and finance leases. Whether your communications requirements are small or large we can help support your immediate needs. Ask us about our current 0% financing programs.

We also have local Customer Service Specialists to guide you through your recovery, explain your options and to ensure a flexible payment plan is developed to support your unique business situation.

If your equipment is currently leased through Avaya Financial Services you have protection by working with your insurance provider. In addition, Avaya Financial Services is committed to support your immediate and going forward needs.

Our financial programs allow businesses like yours to take delivery of essential communications equipment now at attractive, low monthly payments. We are ready to support you during this crisis allowing you to quickly get back in service without worrying about initial payments or for those already in a lease, flexible alternatives.

At Avaya Financial Services we understand that the next few months create significant hardship for you, your family and your business. Let us help you break through this adversity during your recovery. We are committed to your success and are available to help!
